Part X, Line 2:

Child Care Law Center is exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701d.

Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosure guidance about positions taken by an organization in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all of the positions taken by Child Care Law Center in their federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. Child Care Law Center's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they are filed.

Form 990, Part I, Line 1, Description of Organization Mission:

low-income families can access quality child care and is the only organization in the country devoted exclusively to the complex legal issues that affect child care. We envision a California where child care is a civil right, not a benefit; where equal opportunity begins with equal access to safe and healthy child care; and where parents can support their families without sacrificing their children's well-being.

We conduct trainings for the community, advise attorneys and advocates who represent low-income parents and child care providers, produce legislative analysis for policy makers, and answer child care related questions from parents and child care professionals.

For over thirty years, the Child Care Law Center has been the leaders of innovative child care policy and has engaged in litigation, community education, and advocacy to increase the child care options available to low-income families.

We saved child care for 55,000 children of low-income working families in California by using a litigation strategy to block the line-item veto of a child care fund in Parent Voices Oakland v. O'Connell.

Administrative advocacy tactics we employed helped win new protocols to ensure that children with disabilities could receive incidental medical services while in child care.

We ensured the safety of children in child care by drafting a law to teach child care providers how to "Recognize & Report" child abuse and neglect, with the support of child care providers across the state.

In Rose v. Eastin, we forced the California Department of Education to establish regulations to provide child care for families on CalWORKs.

We brought together more than 40 different early childhood advocates to present an organized and coordinated testimony on how to best use block grant money from the Child Care Development Fund to strengthen the state's child care system.

We cover a wide range of legal and policy issues: government funding for child care, health and safety regulations, child welfare, civil rights, disability rights, housing rights, land use, contracts, and economic development. We are able to accomplish this through the funding of the Legal Services Trust Fund of the California State Bar, private foundations, individual donors, and government contracts.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

Policy and Legal Advocacy:

Child Care Law Center attorneys are experts in child care-related legal issues. We inform attorneys, child care professionals, and advocates about changing child care laws, regulations, and policies. We answer their questions about child care law, conduct trainings, produce fact subsidies, child care licensing regulations, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and municipal zoning ordinances impacting child care providers. We produced legal materials that government agencies, child care professionals, and advocates rely on to keep children healthy, safe, and enrolled in child care programs. All materials and publications are available at www.childcarelaw.org.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11:

Form 990 is submitted to the Finance Committee for review in detail with the Executive Director or Board's designee. The 990 is then submitted at the next Board of Directors Meeting for review prior to signing and mailing.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c:

At the beginning of every fiscal year we require each Board member to read, complete, and sign our written conflict of interest policy and if there are any conflicts, they are disclosed and managed by the Board according to the policy.
